MIDDLEBURY TAKES OVER R.P.I. TEAM IN IN FIRST MATCH, 4-2

Successful Doubles Match Gives Win to Blue Netmen

SEYMOUR ONLY NEW MAN IN QUARTET

Team to Meet Boston University Saturday On Local Courts

Middlebury's tennis team returned victorious Sunday from a 4 to 2 win over R. P. I. at Troy on Saturday afternoon, the first match of the season for the Blue and White netmen. Two of four singles and both doubles were taken from the York state players by Middlebury men.

Burke of R. P. I. bested Wolfskehl 4-6, 4-6 in the first singles match while Hickcox evened matters with a 6-4, 6-4 win from Booth. Hindes took his first set from Coley of R. P. I., 6-3, but dropped the next 6-8. The deciding fray proved a stubborn one; 12-10 was the count which finally gave Middlebury the decision. Johnson overcame Seymour 2-6, lost the next set 6-4, then came back with an 8-6 win to conclude the singles.

Even though the results were so closely contested in the opening play, Middlebury's veterans proved too much for the New York men in the doubles, and Wolfskehl and Hindes defeated Burke and Booth 6-3, 2-6, 6-3, while Hickcox and Seymour trounced Stockhouse and Carr 5-7, 6-1, 6-2.

Wolfskehl's contest with Burke, the R. P. I. star, was a hard fought battle throughout. Only by exerting himself to his utmost was Burke able to convince his guest that he was best man. Hindes' defeat of Captain Coley of R. P. I., by a 12 to 10 score, was another genuine struggle of determination and skill. At one point the tally read 2-5 against him, but he fought his way out of trouble and into victory.

If any exceptional credit is due Middlebury's players, it is to Wolfskehl and Hindes who, facing Burke and Booth of proved ability, overthrew them in the set which decided the day's play. Seymour was the "youngster" on the Middlebury team; of the four players, he alone is not a veteran, but from his style of play Saturday, he promises to hold his own with his mates.

The match scheduled with St. Stephens on Friday was cancelled because of a sudden epidemic of scarlet fever. The student body is to have a chance to see Captain Hickcox's men in action, however, for on Saturday Boston University plays on the local courts, after a game Friday at Vermont. Comparison of the results of these week-end matches should prove interesting when the state championship match with Vermont is under discussion.

Spring Football Training Closes

Spring football training was brought to a close last Wednesday with a light scrimmage session in which several formations were worked out. It was originally intended to hold the spring workouts over a longer period but due to the pressure of other spring activities and the use of the two athletic fields by other branches of sports it was necessary to shorten the period of training. However the men were given a good basic preparation for the training next fall and Coach Klevenow is well pleased by the promise shown by a large number of the candidates.

MOVIES OF TRACK MEN NOW POSSIBLE

Brooks Presents Moving Picture Outfit To Coach Brown

Middlebury's track team and classes in athletic coaching will have an opportunity of seeing themselves in action in the future through the generosity of Henry Stanford Brooks, Vice President of the Americal Telephone and Telegraph Company and the father of Harry V. Brooks '28 who has presented Coach A. M. Brown with an excellent moving picture camera.

For some time Coach Brown has been considering the advisability of purchasing such a machine in order that action pictures of the track men can be taken to point out their good and bad points. Mr. Brooks, on learning of Coach Brown's plans looked into the matter and after determining the best outfit that could be purchased for the purpose wrote Coach Brown of his gift to the Physical Education Department.

His letter to Coach Brown follows in part:

"I am giving myself the privilege of presenting this outfit to the Physical Director's Department under your supervision. I think that you will find it useful in all manner of ways. Of course, the track squad is to have first use of it, because there is where my interest lies, but I make the gift to the Physical Director's Department under your supervision, without any condition. The camera will go forward by express and I have purchased from ten to fifteen dollars worth of reels which is included in the gift. So when the machine arrives you should be ready to go right ahead."

The machine will be utilized by the classes in athletic coaching from now on in analyzing different plays and formations in the various branches of sport. In the fall it will be found especially useful in connection with skull practise in pointing out the good and bad plays of the previous Saturday's game.

Mr. Brooks' interest in presenting it for the use of the track team is a very special and personal one. A graduate of Yale in the Class of '85, he starred during his four years as a track man

CAMPUS TO CONDUCT STUDENT POLL ON PROHIBITION ISSUE

The National Student Federation of America which was formed last December at Princeton announced at that time that one of its aims would be "to formulate student opinion on questions of national and international importance". In pursuance of this policy a nation-wide campaign is being conducted among college students to gather undergraduate opinion on the prohibition question. In this survey it is planned to seek a general college poll seeking especially the reason for the results obtained; a tabulation of fraternity and college rules relative to the use of liquor and a report from each college and university on the actual drinking conditions there as far as they can be ascertained. The CAMPUS is publishing a sample ballot and unlike most ballots it asks the reason "why". It is important that this be answered. The student body, therefore, is asked to consider the question carefully and to state reasonably satisfactory answers for voting as they did. The ballots will be collected at the various fraternity houses and at the bookstore and all of them should be in on Saturday of this week.

PROFESSOR MORIZE SPEAKS AT FORMAL DINNER AT CHATEAU

Director of Summer Session Praises Work of Department

M. VALLERTON ALSO GUEST AT BANQUET

Members of French Club Present Pleasing Play

Professor Andre Morize of Harvard an advisor of the Middlebury French School and director of the Summer Session, and M. Valleton, a representative of the French Government, were the guests of honor at the first annual formal banquet held in the French Chateau Monday evening, May 3. Dana S. Hawthorne '26, acted as toastmaster and introduced several speakers among whom were President Paul D. Moody, Professor Morize, M. Vallerton, Dean Eleanor S. Ross, Professor S. S. Freeman, Edna Graham '27, Harriet Miner '26, and Emeline Freeborn '29.

Professor Morize spoke very highly of the present plan of study being used at the Middlebury French school. He pointed out that it was ideal for the development of French culture.

Professor Freeman of the Middlebury French Department introduced M. Vallerton, secretary of L'Alliance Francaise, who spoke of the customs of the people of Alsace-Lorraine, and also brought out the relationship of America with France.

Following the banquet a play, "Le Retour des Soldats" was very pleasingly presented in the salon by members of the French Club. The cast included Edith Markwell '28, Mary Crane '29, Paul Dujardin '29, Malcolm Williams '29, Llewelyn Roberts '29 and Lois Guthrie.

Glee Club Starts Final Tour

The Men's Glee Club, under the management of Professor Luther I. Bonney left yesterday for its last and most extensive tour of the season. The first appearance was made in Keene last night when the club gave a concert under the auspices of the Keene Normal School. Tonight the club sings in New Britain, Conn., where its program was very well received last year. Concerts will be given Thursday and Friday evenings in Springfield, Mass., and Rutland, the club returning to Middlebury probably Saturday morning.

WILL OPEN HOME SEASON FRIDAY

Pitchers Primed for Clarkson Game; Several Shifts In Lineup

Middlebury will open her home season on Friday afternoon when Capt. Novotny's nine meets the Clarkson team on Porter Field. The following day the Blue and White team will journey to Williamstown where they will meet Williams. Comparatively little is known of the Clarkson team and the Williams nine has not met with especial success this season, although they have faced relatively stronger outfits than Middlebury.

Coach Klevenow has been considerably hampered since the return from the Bay State trip by rainy weather and practise has of necessity been called off on three days. However the two varsity teams will play this afternoon and it is probable that one of the fraternity teams will face the varsity tomorrow.

The lineup that will start against Clarkson is uncertain but it is very likely that there will be a number of shifts. The pitching staff, which at first looked like the weak spot in the team, is showing constant improvement and the Coach will have Hingston, Williams, Simmons, Lankes and Bossert to pick from for the two games over the week-end.

Campus Board Holds Annual Formal Banquet

The annual formal banquet of the CAMPUS board was held at the Addison House Wednesday evening, April 28, with the retiring editor, James S. Jackson, acting as toastmaster. Lloyd C. Harris, the new editor in chief, after accepting the editor's pencil, which is handed down from year to year, outlined an extensive plan for the paper's policy for the coming year.

Among the other speakers of the evening were President Paul D. Moody, Professor R. H. White, C. H. Abbott, the new managing editor, E. S. Hickcox, H. P. Graves, and Miss Martha E. Gordon, the new women's editor.

CHEMISTRY SCHOOL READY FOR SUMMER

Voter Again to Head Department; Many Courses Offered

The eighteenth summer session of the Middlebury College School of Chemistry will open for registration June 30, and close August 17. The courses offered by the school are such as to meet the demands of five distinct groups of students: graduate and undergraduate students who are candidates for a degree in a regular course; medical, premedical and biology students; teachers of chemistry in secondary and normal schools; students desiring work of a general or a special character in the field of industrial chemistry; and students desiring experience in research.

The faculty consists of Professor P. C. Voter, M. A., Dean of the School; B. B. Corson, Ph. D.; John F. Haller, B. Chem.; R. John Gettens, B. S. and one more instructor whose appointment is yet to be made.

Special attention is called to the course which deals with the teaching of chemistry in secondary schools. Although designed especially for students of chemistry, this course is well suited to the teacher of any science, treating as it does the problems confronting the inexperienced instructor and giving the experienced teacher an opportunity to study the various ways of coping with these problems.

The school is well equipped, not only with the necessary appartus and chemicals for the ordinary courses but it also has a great variety of special appartus for the use of the advanced and research students. There is also a departmental library consisting of about 2000 volumes, and well supplied with periodicals.

More than usual interest has been shown in the coming summer session, reservations having already been made by students of several other institutions. It should be kept in mind however that the aim of the school is a high grade of work rather than a large number of students and for this reason plenty of opportunity is given each student to obtain individual instruction from the professors

The program of the school is arranged to give ample opportunity to the student for recreation. Week-ends and some afternoons are free for trips or any other forms of recreation. The Adirondacks, Lake Dunmore and Long Trail are only a few of the many points of interest easily reached by automobile from Middlebury.

Baker to Outline Work of Yale Drama Department

Through the efforts of the Vocational Committee, George Pierce Baker, who is now Professor in the Yale Schools of Fine Arts, and Chairman of the Department of Drama, has been secured to speak in Chapel May eighth. Mr. Baker is Professor of the History and Technique of Drama and is also Director of the Yale University Theatre.

He is widely known as author, critic and producer. While formerly Professor of Dramatic Literature at Harvard, he selected and edited a series of collections of plays given by the 47 Workshop and Harvard Dramatic Club. Among some of the books he has written are: Development of Shakespeare as a Dramatist, Modern American Plays, and Dramatic Technique.

In his talk, Mr. Baker will give in some detail the work of the Yale Department of Drama, its purposes, and equpiment, with a glimpse into Dramatic work as a field for the College graduate.

TRACK TEAM WINS BY TWENTY POINTS FROM MASS. AGGIES

Eddy and Smith Make New Records in Javelin and 220 Yard Run

HEAVY TRACK SLOWS UP RUNNING EVENTS

New Men Give Promise Of Successful Season For Panther

A 77 2-3 to 57 1-3 victory over Massachusetts Agricultural College and the breaking of two college records were the accomplishments of the Middlebury track team in the first meet of the season on Saturday afternoon. Although made up to a large extent of new men and suffering from the loss of three of last year's stars Coach Brown's squad began to assert their superiority early in the meet and surpassed the Massachusetts team in practically all of the events.

The outstanding events in the meet were the javelin throw and the 220 yard dash in which new records were set. "Doc" Eddy for the third time in three years broke the previous college record for the javelin and this year started the season by setting a new distance of 151 feet, 6 3-4 inches. Twice in his freshman year Eddy established a new mark. Last year Capt. Cass bettered the mark at the New England Intercollegiates with Eddy again setting a new record Saturday.

"Gil" Smith, running in his first college meet, outclassed his field in both the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash. His form and speed in the 220 was quite the most sensational that has been seen on a Middlebury track in recent years as he dashed across the finish line setting a new record of 22.7 seconds. From all appearances he should better this time before the close of the season.

Ideal weather conditions prevailed, but due to recent rains, the track was heavy and considerably slowed up the time in the running events. The poor condition of the take off in the high jump also hindered the entrants and it is probable that Potter and Walker would have been able to have made a higher mark with it in better shape.

In the field events Middlebury had an edge on the Aggies and cleaned up all three places in both the shot put and hammer throw due to the work of Potter, McLaughlin and Davis. However the Middlebury team was outclassed in the broad jump and lost all three honors to the Massachusetts team.

Witt, another freshman, made a pretty run in the mile event and won quite handily. Dodd set the pace and held the lead for the first two and a half laps after which the field became irregular with first one and then another ahead. Witt jumped into the lead at the start of the fourth lap and held a comfortable lead until the finish. Middlebury also excelled in the two mile run when Kelly took the lead at the outset with Robinson second, both finishing in fine form with Kelly well ahead of the field.

Potter with a first, a tie for first, and two seconds was high point man for the day, piling up a total of 15 points. Sniffen of M. A. C., who took a first and two seconds claimed second honors, with 11 points, while Schappelle of M. A. C. and Smith were close upon him with two firsts totaling ten points apiece.

Middlebury's next meet will be on the week-end of Junior Week when the Blue and White team meets the Union team at Schenectady.

The summary follows:

Mile run—Witt, M., 1st; Hennebery, M. A. C., 2nd; Swan, M. A. C., 3rd. Time, 4 minutes, 55 seconds.

440-yard dash—Schappelle, M. A. C., 1st; Burrows, M, 2nd; Arnold, M, 3rd. Time, 54.8.

100-yard dash—Smith, M, 1st; Sniffen, M. A. C., 2nd; Adams, M, 3rd. Time, 10.2.

120-yard high hurdles—Thompson, M. A. C., 1st; Schaefer, M, 2nd; Mahoney, M. A. C., 3rd. Time, 18.4.

Two mile run—Kelly, M, 1st; Robinson, M, 2nd; Nottebaert, M. A. C., 3rd. Time, 10 minutes, 53 2-10 seconds.

POLICIES

A new board is of necessity troubled with ideals and aspirations. We all have them at the outset of a new undertaking but too often they are lost sight of in the flight of time, or in the apparent importance of other things nearer at hand. Perhaps it were better not to mention them for then there would be fewer to mourn their death. However we do not intend that they shall die, except by means externally effected. They are the ideals and hopes that have led the Campus for ninety-six years, and if their death has been perennial their resurrection has been no less so. In following in their quest we cannot help but gain an inch or two when we reach the proverbial banana peel stage, we hope we can step aside and avoid the fall.

The position of the Campus in the college is a peculiar one. We aspire to be both informative and critical and at the same time avoid the role of the gossip and the sour-lived censor. We detest vanity, snobbery and over presumption just as we do crudeness and wilful ignorance on the part of both student body and faculty.

It is our firm conviction that the finger of scorn accomplishes far more than the finger of bitter admonition and that the best antidote for academic stagnation is a sense of truth that respects neither rank nor tradition. If we may be said to have a definite mission in life it is to exterminate the foibles of the average undergraduate, to tweak the noses of the self satisfied and sharpen the wits of the dogmatic pedant.

We believe that the aims stated hereafter are justified, and will further them to the fullest extent which our ability and the freedom of the press will allow. If this, our first appearance, has obvious shortcomings, the student body may have the satisfaction of knowing that we too realize their presence.

Our policies, then for the coming year will be as follows:

1. A keener undergraduate appreciation of scholarship.
2. Improvement of Porter Field.
3. An enlarged winter sports program with the ultimate idea of a Winter Carnival.
4. A homecoming day, with appropriate program, for alumni on the week-end of the home game of the State Championship football contest.
5. A more equal recognition in college affairs and activities.
6. Reduction of emphasis on fraternities in college activities. (a) Reorganization of interfraternity council; (b) Promotion of better relations among various organizations; (c) Limitation on the growth of fraternities.
7. Honorary societies made truly honorary and representative of leaders in college activities.
8. More effective Sophomore Rules Committee with power to enforce regulations.
9. More practical vocational guidance tending towards definite employment at graduation.
10. Abolition of certain petty and antagonistic regulations.
11. Endorsement of all movements for the betterment of Middlebury of either an administrative or undergraduate nature.

RELIGION

Too often today the college man or woman is accused of not having any religion. He is pointed out as impervious to any form of belief in the Divine, and in general is placed in a category that is not especially complimentary. Of late the newspapers have given considerable attention to the fact that a society for these non-believers has been formed at Rochester while only last week the atheists, deists and agnostics at Yale formed a society known as the "Yale Freethinkers' Society" to disavow revealed religion.

To many this may seem a step in the wrong direction and a definite indication of degeneracy but it can hardly be called that. It is quite generally known that the college student of today does not take kindly to the cut and dried type of religion that has been dispensed from the pulpit for the past fifty or a hundred years. Neither does he take the Bible in the same light as his parents were brought up to consider it in. He takes it for what it is worth, although it must be admitted he fails to realize the real practical value of certain parts of it.

This is not a sign of lack of thought and degeneracy. Rather it is a very conclusive evidence of genuine thought and deliberation on the part of the college student. Naturally he rebels at the superficial type of spiritual aid that he must listen to on Sundays. And in this spirit of mild intellectual rebellion he formulates his own code of religion, that is oftentimes far more satisfying and practical than the common every day article.

We are inclined to look with favor on this more or less radical movement among the college students of the country. It makes for a religion that is personal and individual, based on the real and the known rather than on the supernatural. It appeals to the practical intellect instead of the fickle emotions. That alone is enough to warrant our consideration of the issue.

STAY WITH US

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday Middlebury will observe her annual Junior Week program of events and festivities. For most of us it means a relaxation from studies and substitution of fun and frivolity for three short days and nights. That is what it should mean, for entertainment is the foundation on which this series of events is built.

However, there are some of us who take it as an opportunity to go home or to some other place where the charms are equally attractive, but this is far from the original purpose of Junior Week and utterly defeats the purpose of the occasion. If the college intended it as a vacation they would have added it to the spring recess. Too often many of us do leave Middlebury and leave only a touch of artificiality to support Junior Week.

This year the Committee has arranged an especially elaborate and attractive program. It is one that should have a universal appeal to every student because of the unusual variety of the events and functions. There will be guests here in fairly large numbers. Let's all get into the spirit of the fun and make Middlebury what it is when we are all here, rather than what it is when only half of us are here.

It is our Junior Week. Make it truly representative of us.

THE PROHIBITION POLL

Perhaps no question has aroused such universally nation-wide interest as the recent investigation of the prohibition law. The Senate has gone into the matter from every angle and the newspapers have reflected popular opinion through polls. Now the college papers are taking up the question.

It is not the effect of this poll that is to be considered so much as it is that it will serve as a mirror of undergraduate opinion in the colleges of the country. This opinion will be both personal and collective and Middlebury should regard it as a serious attempt to secure true sentiment rather than a humorous expression of thoughtless ideas.

WEEK-END SOCIAL EVENTS

Delta Delta Delta Holds Formal

Effective decorations, snappy music and a balmy evening made the annual Formal Dance of Alpha Iota of Delta Delta Delta a success. It was held in the Playhouse, the basis of the decorative scheme being black and white silhouettes. Sid Rinhertz and his orchestra of Boston furnished the music. Representatives were the Misses Elizabeth Howard, Pi Beta Phi; Ada Winchester, Sigma Kappa; Juanita Pritchard, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Clara Park, Alpha Xi Delta; Viola Palmer, Phi Mu; and Ellen Rowley. President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody, Professor and Mrs. William S. Burrage, Dean Eleanor S. Ross and Miss Ellen Wiley were chaperones. Guests from out of town were the Misses Gertrude Brault of St. Albans; Lila Maxfield of Brandon, Oliva Covey of Katonah, N. Y., Mary Fletcher of Middlebury, Ruth Whitney '25, of Brandon; and Messrs. Harold Towle of Boston, Wendell Smith of Harvard College, John J. Leary '25 of New York, Haviland Staples '25 of Troy, N. Y.

Delta Upsilon Holds Informal

Twenty-three couples enjoyed the first spring informal at the Delta Upsilon House on Saturday evening. The lounge, reception hall and dining room were given over to dancing and colored lights of gold and blue made the interior especially attractive. The music for a program of fourteen dances was furnished by Higgins, Waite and Maynard with Professor and Mrs. P. C. Voter and Professor and Mrs. H. H. Clark as chaperones.

FORENSIC ABILITY OF WOMEN TO BE SHOWN

Co-Eds To Compete For Prizes For First Time

Announcement was made this morning of the completion of plans for a freshman prize debating contest in the Women's College, to take place in Mead Memorial Chapel sometime during the last two weeks in May. While the date has not been definitely fixed it will probably be held on the evening of May twenty fourth.

The women's prize contest is an innovation at Middlebury, and is the result of an interest on the part of the women for opportunities in public speaking similar to those of the men. The event has been made possible through the enthusiasm of William T. Hade '26, under whose training the work is being done. Much interest and ability has been shown by those who have been trying out and a practise debate last Saturday with a team composed of men who are trying out for the Parker Prizes brought forth very favorable comment.

Although the prizes in the Women's contest will not be as munificent as those in the men's it is hoped that a successful contest will lead to more substantial ones next year.

The seven freshmen women who will compete in this first event of its kind will be Harriett Freeborn, Eleanor Jocelyn, Dorothy Pollard, Rhoda Smith, Gretchen Taylor, Sylvia Westin and Laura Wheaton.

Vespers Speaker Stresses Need of Vision In Life

Dr. Alexander C. Purdy of Hartford, Conn., who spoke at Vespers Sunday used as his text Acts 2:17—"And your young men shall see visions." Vision insures cohesion in life; it glues life together. Today we need vision. There is in youth at present too much of the pose of arm chair pessimism and arm chair optimism.

"Formerly people believed that anything was possible to be done, and they did unbelievable things. Today our temptation is to make everything practical and reasonable.

"There is too much talk about things. We should strive to win thought over things, spirit over sense. We have the tools for a richer and larger life than any other generation. We should learn how to use them, how to develop a sense of discrimination and vision.

"Men of today are catching visions in the realm of human relations and, most important of all, in the realm of religion."

JUNIOR WEEK PLANS NEARLY COMPLETED

Souvenir Booklet Contains Full Program of Big Week-End

Junior Week preparations together with all the details connected with making the program one to be remembered by Middlebury men and women as the best in years, are rapidly rounding into final form, and the Committee announces that the stage is set for a red-letter three days for everyone.

The committee in charge of programs have obtained an unusually attractive souvenir booklet this year containing the full program for the week-end, baseball and track schedules, and other valuable information with regard to the college in general. The program is bound in limp dark blue leather with the college seal and the class numerals embossed on the cover. This should prove to be a memento of the week's festivities which everyone should desire to keep. Copies may be obtained from members of the program committee.

Invitations to the visiting sub-freshmen have all been sent out, and it is expected that a large number of men will avail themselves of the opportunity of getting a glimpse of Middlebury College life at its height. Final details for their accommodation and comfort during the three day period will be completed within a few days.

Stearns and Kinne Win In Polls For Managerships

Warren E. Stearns '28 of San Juan Porto Rico, was elected assistant manager of basketball, and Harold E. Kinne '28 of West Pawlet, assistant manager of hockey at a meeting of the Undergraduate Association last night. Stearns, who won by a vote of 84-45 from Billings is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi. Kinne took the election by a scant lead of three votes from Dempsey. He has been active in journalistic work here, being on the staffs of both the CAMPUS and Saxonian. Kaleidoscope to Be Ready For Delivery Junior Week

The 1927 Kaleidoscope has gone to press and will be ready for delivery sometime during the week of May ninth, either just before or during Junior Week, according to a statement from the editor in chief, Howard W. Cutler.

This year's book will be of approximately 260 pages, bound in semi-limp leather, printed on 100 pound white paper stock, and built on the theme of the Black Panther throughout. The drawings for the book are most unusual, and the cover design has been pronounced as unique among other college annuals.

The business manager has set the price for the publication at five dollars per copy and it is asked that subscribers have the balance of the payment ready to take up their copies immediately on the arrival of the first shipment.

Crows

In a field in sunny Spain stands a stone mortar. Crows hover around it, picking up bits of grain and chaff—cawing.

Here Marcheta, in the fresh beauty of her youth, will come to pound maize. For years she will pound maize. The stone will stand up under the blows; not a dent has the muscle of three generations of women made upon it. But the crows will hurl their black gibes upon a woman aging early and bent with toil. Old Marcheta—still in her thirties.

The American woman does not pound maize. But she still beats carpet; she still pounds clothes; she still pumps water. She exhausts her strength in tasks which electricity can do better, and in half the time.

The high ideals of a community mean little where woman is still doomed to drudgery. But the miracles which electricity already has performed indicate but a fraction of the vast possibilities for better living and the tremendous opportunities which the future developments in electricity will hold for the college man and woman.

Electricity, which can release woman from her burdens, has already created a revolution in American industry. Wherever mankind labors, General Electric motors can be found carrying loads, driving machinery and saving time and labor. And there is no branch of electrical development today to which General Electric has not made important contributions.

A series of G-E advertisements showing what electricity is doing in many fields will be sent on request. Ask for booklet GEK-1.

and in two different years he was the intercollegiate champion in both the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash, setting new college marks in both of these events between 1882 and 1884. In addition he held the record at Yale for the standing high jump and was one of the outstanding members of the Eli track team.

In commenting on the gift Coach Brown expressed himself as being more than pleased. He believes that the use of the camera will accomplish a double purpose. First that it will create a greater general interest in athletic activities through the opportunity the participants will have of seeing themselves in action and secondly that it will create a desire for better technique and perfection of form.
